Training

We regularly hold training sessions for clients on a broad range of aspects of employment law and practice.

Training sessions vary in length from an hour to a day, depending on the needs of the client. They can be arranged as a presentation or seminar organised for a large group of clients, or may equally be in relation to a discrete area of employment law at the request of a single client. We prefer to visit clients whenever possible.

The format that a training session would follow can be tailored to your preference. We are conscious that employment law can at times be a technical area and therefore make our training as accessible and interactive for our audience as possible.
