China links – your legal requirements

Veale Wasbrough Lawyers is proud to be closely associated with JKW Global and to have sponsored the Bristol China Partnership for over 5 years. We advised on the Cooperation Agreement signed in May 2005 by the cities of Bristol and Guangzhou and would like to see trading links between the two regions develop and grow. As international lawyers, we can play a part in your company's growth by helping China based businesses trade with the UK and Europe.

Our staff operate regionally, nationally and internationally from our modern office in the heart of Bristol city centre – a city twinned with Guangzhou. We can offer access to Chinese and UK legal advice and help to export your goods and services, to source components and manufactured goods, and to set up local companies and agents in the UK. Veale Wasbrough has contact law firms in Guangzhou, Dalian and Beijing but are more than happy to work with your own Chinese lawyers.

Our business clients, irrespective of size or sector, expect commercial awareness coupled with a common sense approach. The need for this is even more important if you are trading internationally.

We can advise on all aspects of cross border commercial dealings including:

- Setting up UK companies
- Contracts with purchasers and sellers of goods and services
- Establishing a presence in the local market
- Foreign law advice
- Regulatory requirements
- Payments
- Intellectual property
- Buying or leasing property
- Employment law advice
